

“Nosaltres – Per un món millor” (Us – For a Better World)

NOSALTRES is a collection of reflections, suggestions, and sentiments, expressed by a group of people as large as it is diverse, a small slice of humanity which, currently, is living on this planet of limited resources called Earth with both uncertainty and hope about their future as a group of people that continues to grow: it's estimated that there will be 11 billion people on the planet by the end of the century. This book speaks about all of us, men and women, from different perspectives, in prose and verse and in various languages because that's what our world is like, rich in its variety despite unifying trends of commercial globalisation. Poems, songs, letters, dreams of ideal societies, messages sent from the heart, analyses of great challenges, both current and future, faced by humanity. All of this lives in this unclassifiable book alongside the artistic creations of LaBGC, which is the driving force behind this initiative which, in short, only wishes to send one message: there are many of us, always divided by borders and powers that are bigger than us, but together, we can do anything to achieve a better world. We still have time.
